

Making Safeguarding Personal

What is most important to you?

If you want you can write down the three most important things you would like to happen.

You can also tell us what you would like your social worker to do to make this happen.

Sometimes we may not be able to do exactly what you would like but we will be honest with you and explain why this is not possible.

Making Safeguarding Personal

The Care Act (2014) statutory guidance states that all safeguarding partners should “take a broad community approach to establishing safeguarding arrangements. It is vital that all organisations recognise that adult safeguarding arrangements are there to protect individuals. We all have different preferences, histories, circumstances and life-styles, so it is unhelpful to prescribe a process that must be followed whenever a concern is raised.”

Safeguarding “should be person-led and outcome-focused. It engages the person in a conversation about how best to respond to their safeguarding situation in a way that enhances involvement, choice and control as well as improving quality of life, wellbeing and safety.”

What do you want to happen?

Things to think about:

- ◆ I want the abuse to stop and to feel safe
- ◆ I want others to be protected from similar risk and abuse
- ◆ I want the police to be involved
- ◆ I want to become better able to protect myself in the future
- ◆ I want an improved quality of life
- ◆ I want to be involved in any decisions about my life
- ◆ I want to know how to access support that may be available to me
- ◆ Other
